New Online Continuing Education Available for Veterinary Professionals

Saint Paul, MN – The newest wave of online veterinary learning has arrived! VetGirl, LLC, a subscription-based podcast and webinar service offering RACE-approved, online veterinary continuing education (CE), is available to veterinarians and veterinary technicians.

Dr. Justine Lee, DVM, DACVECC, DABT states that “...as a veterinary specialist, I often don’t have time to keep up to date on my veterinary journals. VetGirl is designed for those of us who are too busy saving lives to read through journals or leave our busy practices to attend veterinary conferences. As a mid-distance runner, I want to be able to learn and run at the same time, and hence, the idea of a downloadable veterinary podcast!” Founded by Dr. Justine Lee, DVM, DACVECC, DABT and Dr. Garret Pachtinger, VMD, DACVECC, VetGirl is designed for veterinary professionals who have “time poverty” that want to learn “on the run.”

VetGirl is the latest resource for keeping up with current literature and the cutting-edge updates in veterinary medicine. Learn from veterinary podcasts (that you can download to your smartphone, tablet, laptop, or desktop) or online webinars. VetGirl ELITE subscribers receive 20-24+ hours of RACE-approved continuing education a year ($199). All VetGirl webinars are recorded and available to view online for CE credit at any time.

VetGirl’s online veterinary CE is provided by the top, well-recognized, board-certified veterinary lecturers from North America, and prides itself on providing clinically relevant, practical CE. For more information, check out www.vetgirlontherun.com
